AMERICANS HOPING TO BREAK DEADLOCK AT ARMS CONFERENCE

Attempt To Mediate Differences At Private Sessions

LONDON, March 13.—The American delegates today turned their efforts toward mediating the differences of the other delegations in an attempt to find a key which may open the deadlock now existing at the London naval conference.

Hopes of breaking the deadlock sufficiently to enable a real five-power agreement appeared to be faint, however.

The negotiations were continued in private discussions between the French and Americans. A meeting of the "big five," originally scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon, was cancelled in order to give more time for the private discussions.

Consideration of the French tonnage figures by British and French experts during the first three days of the week gave no indication of a solution and succeeded only in reducing the French global tonnage demands to approximately 684,000 tons by elimination of 29,000 tons of special ships and 11,000 tons of vessels in exempt classifications which should not have been included in the French figures originally.

Faced with this impasse, efforts are now being turned toward solution of the Franco-Italian parity problem. If this is solved, it might possibly induce the French to reduce their claims.

There is no doubt in any quarter that the French demands were placed so high because the French realize it is not economically possible for the Italians to build up to parity with them. Should the Italians renounce their parity claim, the French probably would scale down their figures considerably.

The American delegates are using their good offices in the various deadlocks, but are extremely fearful.

GOVERNOR URGES ADOPTION OF CODE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 13.—Faced with the momentous task of the recodification of the state laws of West Virginia, the state legislature, which is in session here, today has been shown the way out of its differences which have clouded the proposed measure since its inception.

Governor Conley's plea, urging the adoption of the new code, "as speedily as repugnant provisions can be reconciled" and the chief executive's recommendation that public hearings be held by a joint senate and house committee, are expected to speed up the action on the bulky document.

A bitter wrangle was precipitated in the lower branch of the legislature when the governor's request was read. The senate refused to make known its stand, adjourning as soon as it received Conley's plea.

SOUSA WILL LEAD MIDDLETOWN BAND

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 13.—John Phillip Sousa, who is recognized by many as the country's greatest band leader, will appear in one of his boyhood roles today when he leads the Middletown high school band as the inaugurating feature of the three-day annual convention of the American Band Masters Association here.

The famous artist of the baton is honorary president of the organization and when he steps from the train here, he will lead the high school band in a parade from the station.

SUSPECT MURDER IN DEATH OF VETERAN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 13.—A murder theory was advanced by police today in the death of George T. Dyke, 43, Canadian war veteran, whose body was found crumpled at the foot of the back stairs of a building in the downtown district here.

A young man, said to be the proprietor of a speakeasy on the second floor of the building, was arrested for questioning.

COMPETITION!

TOLEDO, O., March 13.—An injunction seeking to prevent a local accessory dealer from having a loud speaker of a radio in front of his store had been sought today by another dealer, who claimed that the noise from the speaker disturbed the salesmanship talks in his own store.

XENIA DRUGGIST IS VICTIM OF HOLD-UP WHEN WALKING HOME

BRIDEGROOM SLAIN

D. D. Jones Robbed Of Watch By Gunman On Wednesday Night

D. D. Jones, proprietor of a drug store at 43 E. Main St., reported to police that he was waylaid at a secluded spot on Collier St., between Market and Church Sts., about 10 o'clock Wednesday night by two negroes, who held him up at the point of a gun and robbed him of an empty pocketbook and a watch valued at $35.

The druggist had closed up his store for the night and was walking to his home at 229 E. Church St. when the colored men turned the corner at Church and Collier Sts. and approached him.

As Jones attempted to pass the pair, the negroes crowded him off the sidewalk. One stepped behind him and the other stopped in front and whipped out a revolver.

After Jones had been warned to "keep your hands out of your pockets and you won't get hurt," the negro behind him searched his pockets, removing his pocketbook which was empty, and watch.

The colored men then walked off in the direction of Market St. and Jones hurried to Police Headquarters, where he reported the robbery.

The druggist said the negroes were young men and wore dark clothes but that they kept their faces partly concealed by turning their coat collars up high around the neck and wearing their caps low on the forehead.

In his opinion the hold-up was premeditated. He believes the negroes knew where he lived, were aware of his habits and that they had planned the robbery on with him the day's receipts from his drug store.

Riddled by bullets from an automatic pistol in the hand of his father-in-law, as he returned to beg forgiveness for eloping with his daughter, William Dineff, 22, below, of Lorain, O., is dead, and his bride of a few days, the former Sofie Dzaueles, top, is prostrated. Police have arrested the girl's father, Anthony Dzaueles, charging him with the murder.

NEW SERIAL WILL START SOON

RADIO has become to many millions the foremost form of entertainment.

To many it is almost the only means of contact with the big world and the great cities.

But, unfortunately, these entertainers who daily divert millions, can not be seen by their vast audience. The broadcasting studio remains a mystery.

Alma Sioux Scarberry, serial writer, found a way to sweep aside this veil of mystery. She visited broadcasting studios gathering material for a series of illustrated articles about radio entertainers.

The series has been running in this paper. Now Miss Scarberry has made further capital out of her adventures in radio-land, by using this great new industry as a background for her latest serial story, "High Hat." Many of the radio entertainers are personal friends of the writer, and that is why Elanda Lee, heroine of "High Hat," is such a real character. "High Hat" is a true-to-life picture of a large broadcasting institution of today. It is laid in the heart of New York and paints a picture of the inside of this business of the air.

Miss Scarberry has written three widely different type of serials, "Make-Up," "The Flat Tire" and "Cotton Stockings." They were written to find out what the public likes and "The Flat Tire" was a sensational success. "High Hat," therefore, is of this type.

The new serial starts in THE GAZETTE day after tomorrow and great, big generous installments will be published until it is completed.

DEBATERS TO MEET
WOOSTER, O., March 13.—The Wooster College negative debate team left here today for Allegheny College where it will oppose the Pennsylvania debaters tonight.

DEMOCRATS WILL CONTROL OFFICE

COLUMBUS, O., March 13.—Carrying out the old political oracle that "to the victor belongs the spoils," the local Democratic party today had selected its candidate to the city attorneyship and a bitter fight looms before he is actually seated. He is attorney Ralph Bartlett, a Democrat.

When Charles A. Leach, former city attorney, was appointed common pleas judge, Mayor Thomas immediately announced that John L. Davies, a Republican, would serve out the remaining part of the term.

But a Democratic city council ruled that the office was vacant and invested the president of the council with the power to appoint the successor to Leach.

Attorney Bartlett, a Democrat, was appointed last night and he announced that if Davies refused to give up the position, he would seek an ouster order from the state supreme court.

Naval Advisor Ill

Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, naval advisor to the American delegation at the disarmament conference in London, is seen here at Pennsylvania Station in New York City as he enroute for Washington, D. C., where he will enter hospital for treatment of stomach. He became ill in London and returned here on the S. S. Berengaria.

Garment workers, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, announced a strike today in an effort to enforce their demand for a five-day week of forty hours, an increase of wages and the elimination of alleged sweatshop conditions, according to union leaders.

A strike of garment workers, not affiliated with the A. F. of L., has been under way here for four weeks.

CHILD LOSES RIGHTS TO ESTATE

Richard Lee Rush, above right, lost his right to share in a $40,000 estate when the court decided he is the son of Miss Lovella Rush, above left, and not Carl Long Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Long, below, in whose home he is being reared. The child's mother testified he was taken by the Lones shortly after his birth to be reared as their child but the lack of actual relationship kept him from sharing in the Long estate, which will probably be settled by compromise between heirs on both sides.

VON HINDENBURG SIGNS YOUNG PLAN; IS NOW LAW

BERLIN, March 13.—President Von Hindenburg today signed the Young plan.

The president's signature, making the plan a law, followed a Reichstag resolution declaring the law urgent and the federal council's approval of the resolution.

With the plan now fully approved Germany is committed to reparations annuities until 1988.

The Young plan, drafted by international experts at Paris last year was approved by representatives of Germany and the various creditor powers at The Hague last January. It replaces the Dawes plan which was in effect from September 1, 1924 until September 1, 1929. The Young plan is retroactive, taking effect from last September.

The president, deferred signing of the Polish liquidation treaty which was passed yesterday by the Reichstag by a vote of 236 to 217. He stated that he desired an examination "to determine whether the simple majority by which the agreement was passed was sufficient to make it constitutional."

FORMER ATHLETE IS BARRED FROM CITY

URBANA, O., March 13.—Urbana today became a "closed city" to Arnet Loy, 21, who gained fame here as a high school athlete, who is held directly responsible for the suspension of Urbana High School from the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Following the recent liquor scandal here, when Loy is alleged to have obtained liquor from a bootlegger for high school students, the youth was hauled into court, and it was ascertained that he was twenty-one years of age, which is above the age limit set by the association for participation in high school sports.

Liquor charges against Loy were dismissed when he promised to quit school.

The case was "hushed up" almost immediately, but it came to the forefront again yesterday when Loy was released from the city jail on a charge of drunkenness.

He escaped prosecution on this second charge by promising to "get out of the city and remain out."

GARMENT WORKERS STRIKE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, March 13.—Four thousand garment workers, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, announced a strike today in an effort to enforce their demand for a five-day week of forty hours, an increase of wages and the elimination of alleged sweatshop conditions, according to union leaders.

A strike of garment workers, not affiliated with the A. F. of L., has been under way here for four weeks.

EXPECT HANNAH AND CONALD WILL FIGHT MURDER TRUE BILLS

Both Indicted But Failure To Produce Body Hurts Case

WOOSTER, O., March 13.—Charles Hannah and Earl Conald were held under first degree murder indictments and under a joint indictment charging child stealing here today by the Wayne County grand jury in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Melvin Horst, four-year-old Orrville boy, more than a year ago.

The indictments were returned by the grand jury late yesterday. Arraignment of the two men on the indictments will probably take place Saturday before Common Pleas Judge George A. Starn, now sitting in Youngstown.

Trial of the two men will probably be called the early part of May, according to Marion T. Graven, county prosecutor.

The first degree murder indictments were returned by the grand jury despite the fact that the body of the Horst boy is still missing and despite the fact that no direct evidence has been obtained other than the "confession" of Hannah, all of whose statements are regarded as questionable.

The indictments are a further complication in the perplexing mystery surrounding the disappearance of the Horst boy, for unless the corpus delicti is found, there is little hope that the murder charges will stand.

Attorneys for Conald have already indicated that they will take immediate steps to obtain bail for their client. Ordinarily, a murder indictment would permit no bail. It is also believed that attempts might be made to have the murder indictment quashed on the grounds that the body of the Horst boy has not been found and consequently, no crime proved.

Pending the trial of the two men, every possible resource of county authorities and police will be joined in a gigantic and dimitted effort to locate the body of the Horst boy. County Prosecutor Graven admitted today that the fate of the Orrville lad is apparently no nearer solution now than it was several weeks ago when the "confessions" of Hannah and Conald were first brought into the open.

The indictments against Conald and Hannah are believed to have been based largely on circumstantial evidence. The two men, following their first implication in Melvin's disappearance, baffled authorities with a series of "confessions" and retractions.

Each accused the other of slaying the boy. Then both retracted their statements.

In some quarters it was rumored that the murder indictments were returned in the belief that the action would "scare" the two men into "coming clean" with what they know, if anything, of the boy's disappearance.

TARDIEU WINS BUDGET FIGHT

PARIS, March 13.—Premier Andre Tardieu won a sweeping victory in the chamber of deputies today when his government's budget was adopted by a vote of 416 to 112 after a tiresome twenty-four hour session.

The vote on the budget at 9:29 a. m. today followed spirited debate and a series of minor rebuffs to the premier which he quelled only by asking for and receiving a vote of confidence which turned the tide in favor of the government. The confidence vote, won 329 to 266, gave the premier a majority of 69.

Premier Tardieu's first government fell on February 17, on a minor budget question which brought out the full strength of the left wing. The budget of his present government, somewhat revised during debate upon it, won hearty support from the majority of the left wing.

NEGRO SHOT IN HEEL

COLUMBUS, O., March 13.—A negro was shot in the heel here early today when he attempted to flee from police after he had alighted from what authorities say was a truck which had been stolen last night. The negro, William Griffin, 39, is under police guard in a local hospital.

FARM BUREAU DIRECTORS GIVE LINCOLN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

COLUMBUS, O., March 13.—A threatened split in the ranks of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation today was believed to have been averted following the action of the board of directors of the organization in giving Murray D. Lincoln, the executive secretary, a vote of confidence.

A group of central Ohio county officials of the federation had charged that Lincoln usurped the power of the board of directors and then allegedly abused it.

The board of directors ignored the charges and gave Lincoln a vote of confidence.

IN STEEL BATTLE

Efforts of Bethlehem Steel Corporation to gain control of the powerful independent Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., have met with strong opposition in Youngstown, O., which declares it does not desire to become "a mere payroll town." Above is Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, pushing the merger, while below is Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland banker, trying to effect a great independent mid-west steel combination, believed opposed to the present merger.

BLOODY RIOTS MARK GANDHI MARCH TO SEA

Numerous Arrests Follow In Wake Of Uprising

LONDON, March 13.—Numerous arrests and bloody clashes in various parts of India today followed in the wake of Mahatma Gandhi's sensational "march to the sea" in connection with his campaign of civil disobedience against British rule.

The most sensational arrest was that of Mayor Sankar of Calcutta, reported in a Central News dispatch from that city. He was taken into custody on charges of sedition.

At Lahore, according to an Exchange Telegraph message, the well-known extremist leader, Sher Jung, was arrested on similar charges. He is alleged to have revealed the existence of a widespread conspiracy of political murders aimed at the overthrow of British rule in India.

As the result of discovery of this plot, governmental troops and police took stringent measures to prevent violence, and a systematic round-up of suspected characters and political extremists was begun.

A serious clash occurred at the Byculia station near Bombay. When scores of railroad strikers attempted to storm the station they were met by a strong detachment of police which routed the rioters after scores of the latter had been injured.

Meanwhile Gandhi, accompanied by a hundred of his most fervent supporters, planned to continue his march to the sea-coast from Asahil, where he halted to augment his force by new recruits. Urging his followers to "be ready to sacrifice your lives," he is marching to the coast to manufacture salt in direct defiance of the British law in an effort to compel abandonment of the salt tax, chief source of British revenue in India.

JAIL QUARANTINED RESULT OF SMALLPOX

MARION, O., March 13.—The county jail here is under quarantine today following the discovery that Sheriff John J. Francis had contracted smallpox. The quarantine is expected to remain in force for ten days.

Visitors will be barred from the jail and no one will be allowed to leave the building, though arrangements have been made for the admittance of new prisoners through a rear entrance.

Sheriff Francis' residence, which is adjacent to the jail, has also been quarantined.

CONSOLIDATION OF OHIO CONCERN WITH BETHLEHEM URGED

Directors Approve; Stockholders Draw Battle Lines

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 13.—Battle lines were being drawn today for what is expected to be one of the bitterest wars in the history of the steel industry following the recommendation late yesterday by directors of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., of the merger of the property with Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

The fate of the proposed consolidation now rests in the hands of stockholders of Sheet and Tube. The deciding vote will be cast April 18. Between now and that date, it is predicted, there will be waged a "battle of proxies" comparable only to the now historic oil war of the Rockefeller's over the Standard Oil Company of Indiana more than a year ago.

The recommendation of the Sheet and Tube directors for the steel combine was regarded in financial circles today as a signal victory for the veteran steel case, James A. Campbell, chairman of the board of the Youngstown concern. From every indication, however, the war is just begun.

Strong opposition is known to be harbored against the merger on the part of the Mahoning Valley shareholders in the Sheet and Tube Co.

OHIO ODD FELLOWS TEMPLE DESTROYED

NAPOLÉON, O., March 13.—Fire early today swept the Odd Fellows' Temple here and for a time threatened to spread to an adjoining hotel, but it was brought under control by firemen after it had caused damage of $20,000.

The structure of the Odd Fellows' Lodge was partly destroyed by the flames. For a time the blaze menaced the Wellington Hotel, which adjoins the temple.

THIEVES RETURN POOR MAN'S MONEY

CLEVELAND, March 13.—There is "honor among thieves." After Yaro Levinsky had been robbed of fifty cents today, all the money he had, he explained to the two men who held him up, that he was out of work and needed the money. The two bandits returned the fifty cents to Levinsky and explained that they too were out of work.

STUDENT "FOUND"

COLUMBUS, O., March 13.—John Enders, 18, Ohio State University freshman, who "disappeared" from his home here with only twenty-five cents in his pocket after he was criticized Saturday night, will return to his parents sometime today. Enders appealed to the Travelers Aid Society at Louisville, Ky., for help and the society notified his parents. He agreed to return home. This ends a four day search for the youth.

KREITZER SENTENCED

CINCINNATI, O., March 13.—After pleading guilty to a violation of the federal narcotic law, H. W. Kreitzer, Dayton attorney, today had been sentenced to serve eighteen months in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary.

AUTO KILLS CHILD

SIDNEY, O., March 13.—William Gastineau, a 7-year-old school boy, is dead here today. He was struck and killed by an automobile as he was walking home from school yesterday afternoon.

FOILS BANDITS

CLEVELAND, O., March 13.—Some women may be "chicken-hearted" but not Mrs. Fay Wobser of Sandusky, O., and she proved it today when she felled two bandits in their attempt to rob her.

As Mrs. Wobser was driving down the street in her motor car here today two bandits leaped upon the running board. Mrs. Wobser's purse, said to be containing a large sum of money, was in the seat beside her.

As the men could grab the purse Mrs. Wobser reached a t and snatched it up. She then let out suddenly on the clutch of her motor car, and the two would-be bandits were flung from the car into the street.

The two men escaped.

ASKS DIVORCE FROM MINOR; FILE APPEAL HERE; COURT NEWS

Suit for divorce, on grounds of gross neglect of duty, has been filed in Common Pleas Court against Eugene Paul by Anna Paul, a minor, by her mother and next friend, Buella Kerr. They were married March 23, 1929. The plaintiff seeks to be restored to her maiden name.

APPEAL FILED

An appeal from a decision of Oliver Watson, Sugarcreek Twp. justice of the peace, awarding the Forney Feed and Seed Stores a judgment for $20.35 against L. C. Early has been filed in Common Pleas Court.

SEEK FORECLOSURE

Foreclosure of mortgaged property is asked in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by John T. Harbine Jr., against Edward D. Williams, Nannie Brown and The F. S. Long Sons Auction Co. The plaintiff, according to the petition, recovered a judgment for $124.22 against Williams last February 22 on a promissory note, but the auction company has possession of a part of chattels covered by a mortgage and claims a lien while Nannie Brown has been exercising acts of ownership with the property and has placed a part of the chattels in storage with the defendant company.

ESTATE VALUED

Gross value of the estate of Margaret Derrick, deceased, is placed at $25,686 in an estimate on file in Probate Court. The estate includes personal property valued at $21,086 and real estate worth $4,600. Debts total $989 and the cost of administration is $662, leaving a net value of $23,682.

WHITE CHAPEL

Mrs. William Bootes, Stone Road, was hostess to the Ladies' Aid Society of the White Chapel M. E. Church, Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Cramton Lott, presided at the meeting, and also had charge of the devotional. The society voted to hold a covered dish supper and social in the basement of the church next Thursday evening, March 13, at 6:30 o'clock, to which members of the church and community are invited. Mrs. A. I. Swindler and Mrs. H. D. Whittington will be in charge of the supper, and each family is asked to bring meat sandwiches and covered dish. Mrs. Henry Weiss, Mrs. William Bootes and Mrs. W. N. Mantle will have charge of the social hour, with plenty of fun for every one. Following the business session Mrs. Bootes and her assistants, Mrs. Ruth Bootes Graham and Mrs. George Bootes, served delicious refreshments.

The weather man took pity on the lovers of maple syrup this last week. Following the freezing weather the first part of the week, Kelters refreshed their 1,400 trees and the sap rose under the influence of the balmy weather and overflowed the buckets. This week was considered the best run of the season.

There were several changes made in this community last week. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wade, Jamestown, purchased the Frisbie farm, Stone Road, and moved to their new home Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. James Lanning, Paintersville, moved to the Farquhar farm Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, New Jasper, moved to the Ireland farm Friday, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hocke have moved to the Peterson farm, on the Creek Road, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Powell moved to the farm on the Creek Road Wednesday, which was vacated by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Spriggs.

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

Lack of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, that "tired feeling" and other human ills may be due to a lack of red-cells in your blood.

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"MY despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skin blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? ... happily the day came and I found the right road to Health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

SSS You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical. © S.S.S. Co.

CONGREGATION ENJOYS ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Approximately two hundred members of the First United Presbyterian Church enjoyed a congregational dinner at the church Wednesday evening as part of the 120th anniversary celebration. Dr. H. B. McElreath, pastor of the Second U. Church, delivered greetings from the Presbyterian ministers and churches of the city as a feature of the program.

Following the dinner the Rev. J. Lytle, pastor of the church, introduced the Rev. Mr. McElreath. His talk was followed by an interesting recital of reminiscences and experiences dating back to the days when no instrument was used in worship and when the congregation met in the second building which was on the present site of the Central High School building, then by Mr. Edwin Galloway.

Mr. William and Miss Margaret Overhead, son and daughter of the late Dr. W. G. Moorehead, pastor of the church in 1871-75, were introduced and gave short greetings to the congregation. Several personal greetings to members were read by the Rev. Mr. Lytle.

Coming as a surprise was a basket of flowers presented the church by members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Second U. Church. The program closed with singing "Old Hundred" and prayer by Dr. McElreath.

MISS LYON HONORED BY CARD PARTY

Miss Emma Lyon, executive secretary of Red Cross Chapter and local Service League, was honored at a delightful card party given by Miss Bertha Hyman, E. Market St., at her home, Wednesday evening.

There were two tables of bridge in play throughout the evening. Miss Anna Louise Jones was awarded high score prize and Miss Josephine John received the consolation prize. Mrs. David Jones, Jewland, who is visiting relatives in this city, was an out-of-town guest.

At the close of the games the hostess served a dainty refreshment course. Guests were: Misses Jane Hayward, Virginia Heathman, Josephine John and Anna Louise Jones, Mrs. Howell Huston, Mrs. David Jones, the honor guest and hostess.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAS REGULAR MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Reformed Church met at the home of Mrs. Meda Wadby, E. Church St., Wednesday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. J. A. Yoder was in charge of the devotional period which introduced a chapter from the study book, "The Crowded Ways."

Mrs. Yoder was assisted by several members of the society.

Mrs. Gowdy and Mrs. Raymond Wolf closed the program with a set.

The hostess served a light refreshment course during the social hour. She was assisted by Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Walter Watkins.

Messrs. I. Friedman, John Furler, Robert McIntyre and James P. Sile, of Xenia Lodge of Elks, attended the election meeting of Wilmington Elks at Wilmington Wednesday evening.

lilies and green and yellow jonquills were used throughout the rooms of Mrs. Gibney's home. A color scheme of green and white, in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day season, was used in the dainty appointments at the luncheon which preceded the bridge.

There were six tables of bridge in play during the afternoon and Mrs. Ralph Hall, Mrs. Charles W. Adair and Miss Elsie Kennedy were awarded lovely prize gifts.

Mrs. Way left Wednesday evening for Denver, Colo., where she expects to remain some time with relatives.

CEDAR CLIFF CHAPTER
D. A. R. HAS MEETING.

Miss Emma Lyon, executive secretary of the joint Red Cross Chapter and Social Service League was the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of Cedar Cliff Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at the home of Mrs. I. C. Davis, Cedarville, Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Lyon used as her subject, "Patriotic Education." She told of the lives of several of America's greatest men and of their educational advantages and also gave points of interest in connection with her work throughout the country.

Mrs. Esther Smith Schick gave a reading which was followed by a short musical program. During the business session Mrs. C. H. Ervin, regent and Mrs. I. C. Davis, were appointed delegates to the state conference at Oxford, April 1, 2 and 3. Mrs. W. A. Turnbull and Mrs. Ervin Kyle were appointed alternates. Members answered roll call with current events.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Florence Rife, served a light refreshment course and a social time was enjoyed.

ENTERTAIN WITH LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. And of some have compassion, making a difference. — Jude, 21, 22.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

That those heyday of youth generally find their greatest enjoyment in the memories of school days, is part of the message conveyed by Governor Myers Y. Cooper in a "greeting" of his to Ohio school children and which appeared recently in the Better School Bulletin.

The chief executive of the state says: "There are just two rather narrow belts around the earth where people enjoy, as we do in Ohio, four distinct seasons of the year—spring, summer, autumn, and winter. Each of these seasons brings its own particular pleasures and privileges."

"The winter season, through which we have been passing for some time and from which we shall soon emerge, is of great importance to those of school age, for, during this season you are in regular attendance at school. You may not now fully appreciate your school days, but if you will get your fathers and mothers, your aunts and uncles, or even your grandparents to talking about their schooldays, you will notice that they have very happy memories and will talk of them with a great deal of pleasure. And they will all tell you how important it is to your happiness and usefulness in coming years for you to make good use of the opportunities you now have to get all the education you can."

"But all agree that the springtime of the year is the most delightful season of all. We look forward, then, to the coming season as full of hope and promise. Balmey days, golden sunlight, singing birds, blooming flowers, and many other enjoyable things and experiences are on the way to us—perhaps just around the corner. The birds have been away for a long time and the trees have stood bare and brown since the frosts of the autumn. Suppose the birds forget to return and the trees did not put forth leaves this spring as they always have! What a difference it would make in the season for us. Yet we seem to forget that we have a part to play in the bird life and tree life wherever we may happen to live."

"Trees cannot grow unless they are planted, and very few birds will stay where there are no trees. So, if we are to make sure that the people of Ohio shall continue to find in these things the same enjoyment that we do, we must plant trees now. Arbor Day is the time each year for such planting, but I fear that some of us are not as careful to do our share on that day as we ought to be."

"I shall soon issue the Arbor Day Proclamation and name the day. In the meantime I hope that each one of you may be laying plans for planting at least one tree. Look around and see where you can get a suitable tree to plant and select a place to plant it. Your parents and teachers will help you and you will be the happier for the service you thus render to the future of our grand old Buckeye State."

Looking over the record, it seems to us that Mr. Hoover would have had a very prosperous and productive year, if a certain body known as the senate of the United States had not devoted itself persistently to the job of being nasty.

The idea that the truth can be discovered through a rubber band attached to the arm and an inkograph registering on a blood pressure chart makes us very humble. We used to think such ideas went out with the middle ages.

Perhaps it would be the easier way just to cut the Philippines adrift and forget about them. But would we ever be able to look ourselves in the face afterward?

The WAY of the WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

"PSYCHOLOGY"

A cement manufacturer, failing to sell his cement blocks fast enough, consulted a psychologist. The psychologist introduced the idea of color. The result was colored stucco and a huge business. A hotel keeper with an old building found he was losing trade. He started advertising his rooms as large, old-fashioned, and homelike, and he did plenty of business. Knowing how to approach the public mind with what you have—that is a study in "practical psychology" that we hear so much about in these days.

Size up yourself and your assets. Are you getting the most out of your personality? Are you applying yourself to your place in life? Are you using practical psychology? Are you selling yourself?

MARRIAGE PSYCHOLOGY

Speaking of psychology, David Seabury, famous consulting psychologist, says this science can be well applied to the field of marriage. He names seven kinds of love: mate love, based on natural compatibility; romantic love, the kind that is in love with love; sex love; home love; intellectual love; propinquity love, in which two persons have the same background, and self-love. The first kind, says Seabury, is the only kind to build marriage on.

FOR JANITORS

An article in the American School Board Journal tells janitors how to janit. It also tells them how to dress and talk. It is set forth that janitors should not wear suspenders unless covered up by a coat. They should not wear vests unless they wear coats also. They should not have high pitched voices, but their voices should be quiet and gentle. Janitors should be like Abraham Lincoln. All of which reveals how hard pressed some trade journals are for comment. The fact is that one-gallused janitors, vestless, coatless, and with squeaky voices, are doing some of the neatest janitoring in America. More power to the janitor as he is.

SLAVES OF THINGS AS THEY ARE

Years ago somebody began to shape college education into a four-year form. Ever since then we have been thinking of college education as a four-class, four-year proposition. If somebody had started it on a five-year plan we should probably be following that plan just as blindly. Despite the fact that almost anybody can see that so-called college education doesn't educate we follow the beaten path.

Educators may well listen to Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior in the president of Leland Stanford university, who tells us the four-year college course has served its time and is dropping out of the picture. The age of specialization demands a change.

THE QUESTION BOX

CENTRAL PRESS
WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 136, Washington, D. C. and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

"Please tell something of Thomas Francis Meagher—the brigade he formed, the battles he was in and the sword speech he made," writes a Question Box reader.

Exiled from his native Ireland for his share in the 1848 uprising, Brig. Gen. Meagher raised an "Irish brigade" which he led, with the federal forces, through the Civil war. He was in the battles of Bull Run, Fair Oaks, Antietam, Fredericksburg (where he was wounded) and Chancellorsville, and at the siege of Yorktown and the seven days of fighting before Richmond. The general was a famous orator and made scores of speeches.

On what day of the week was Jan. 10, 1917?
Wednesday.

TRUNK LINES

Why are certain roads in Michigan called trunk line highways? A "trunk" is the main stem of any branching system. Thus a trunk highway is the main road, as distinguished from less important roads. The designation is not peculiar to Michigan.

WORLD'S WONDERS

What were the ancient wonders of the world? And what are the modern wonders?

The seven ancient wonders, so-called, were the Egyptian pyramids and sphinx, hanging gardens of Babylon, temple of Diana at Ephe-sus, statue of Jupiter in Olympia, tomb of King Mausolus of Caria, Pharos of Alexandria and Colossus of Rhodes. A list of modern wonders, to suit varying judgment, might be indefinitely extended.

NON-QUOTA GUESTS

Does a Canadian who has lived in the United States continuously for 14 years require a passport to visit relatives in Canada and would he have trouble re-entering the United States? That is, would he come under the quota?

Quota restrictions do not prevail against non-Canadians. They are free to enter the United States up to the limit of other grounds than that of nationality. Persons of acquired Canadian citizenship, however, are admitted only on a quota basis of the countries of their origin. An entrant from Canada might conceivably be required to prove that he was born there.

SPRINGTIME OF YOUTH

NEW YORK CITY, New York—Everybody's wondering why Frank Harris, at 76, scribbling his valedictory to the world of letters, should have ignored the great men he has known during the past fifty years and based his book on a twelve-month he spent as cowpuncher. Indian fighter, cattle rustler and companion of "Wild Bill" Hickock on the Texas border at the age of 17. The most natural thing in the world. For the last ten years old Frank Harris has been dreaming in his villa in Nice; and when you're past 70, and fall to dreaming, out from a rose tree in the sun, it is always back to the Springtime of Youth that the Road to Yesterday leads.

"Don't wonder I find my mind wandering into the open prairies of my earlier years," he says. "Kings and cowboys I have known and the cowboys stand out above the rest. I am six thousand miles from them at this moment, and almost sixty years in time; but they seem nearer to me than this morning's paper."

Read "My Reminiscences as a Cowboy," the current selection of Paper Books—Charles Boni—seventy-five cents.

BACK TO NATURE

Otis Swift, a reporter for a New York newspaper used to go out into the country on his day off and come back with pieces of rock, with leaves, buds, blooms, roots, weeds and all that sort of rot.

He fell into the way of writing engaging little nature poems, in prose, for the paper and these lent a new meaning to Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter—to green fields and running brooks; birds and insects; gray weeds spun from russet leaves—the winter colors of the woods, ice-coated underbrush, the song of the wind among the ditch reeds.

One day it occurred to him that in a nervous, dusty, smoky city like New York there must be thousands of men and women who had never seen a flower, a leaf, a stone, a weed, a bird, a bush, a tree, a day's walk in the country.

Timidly he advanced the idea. On that first walk, some years ago, twelve men and women foregathered to troop the countryside with Brother Swift learning from him the gentle art of looking and listening. Today his Order of Yodanis has a membership of fifty thousand.

Swift is fulfilling a very definite and useful function in life.

HOPING FOR A HAND OUT!

COOLIDGE ESCAPES GRIEF

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—Is Calvin Coolidge probably happy he did not choose to seek a renomination in 1928?

Well, he certainly escaped considerable grief by choosing not to do so.

Last winter's stock market slump inevitably would have worried him a great deal more if he had been in the White House than it is likely it did with Mr. Hoover as the executive mansion's tenant. And the unemployment situation? It is all very well to refer to it as a communistic agitation, but the fact remains that there appears to be quite a bit of genuine unemployment mixed up in it. It would have been on Mr. Coolidge's hands instead of Mr. Hoover's, if Mr. Coolidge had been renominated at Kansas City—because there can be no doubt that he would have won at the polls, just as Mr. Hoover did.

The prohibition situation is another situation that is decidedly more acute just now than it was during Mr. Coolidge's presidential regime. Then there is the agricultural situation. It may be said that Mr. Coolidge simply stalled this situation off, so "break" after he was out of office. Possibly; nevertheless, it was not until after he was out and Mr. Hoover was in that it did "break," so that there could be no more "stalling."

Moreover the tariff situation! By retiring just when he retired, Mr. Coolidge also left that to split the G. O. P. early in Mr. Hoover's administration. There are two ways—as between Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover—of looking at the "break" which has occurred since March 4, 1929. One is that they would not have occurred if Mr. Coolidge had stayed in the White House. The other is that Mr. Coolidge could see that they were bound to occur pretty speedily, and that this prophetic vision of his tended to influence him to quit when the quitting was so favorable to him.

Either way, it is hard to imagine Mr. Coolidge, traveling around the country and enjoying himself, as feeling otherwise than that this is a mighty satisfactory time not to be still on the job as president. After Mr. Coolidge, out in the Black Hills in the summer of 1927, had announced that he did not choose to run for president again, it will be recalled that there remained a lingering suspicion in most people's minds that maybe he would yield and run anyway, if the pressure proved strong enough and that this suspicion continued up to the very last minute.

The fact finally developing that Mr. Coolidge really was determined not to run again (in 1928), or else that the pressure had not proved strong enough, the suspicion took this new form—Had Mr. Coolidge, in the back of his head, some sort of thought contemplative of 1932?

One can understand how, assuming that Mr. Coolidge had his doubts of the 1929-32 period as a comfortable period for the White House occupant, the Northampton might rather willingly have relinquished his chances for that interval.

Of course, in the present day and generation, a president who has had one term is about as sure as certainty can be of a renomination, if he insists on it.

However, there is the possibility that he will not insist on it. True, it seems like an exceedingly remote possibility.

Yet perhaps it can be regarded as less remote in Mr. Hoover's case than it would be in the case of any other individual it is easy to imagine in his position—that is to say, at the end of four frightfully trying years as chief magistrate. Mr. Hoover is impatient and sensitive and no politician. It is not impossible to think of him as becoming disgusted with a job even as president (if it had been a sufficient nightmare to him), to be ready to step out of it at the first opportunity.

This is not to predict that Mr. Hoover will have any such awful time during the remainder of his term in the White House.

Just the same, there are some thoroughly capable politicians who persist in wondering if Mr. Coolidge does not entertain hopes of his own in connection with the 1932 G. O. P. presidential convention.

No such theory is worth a moment's consideration unless it takes for granted the supposition on Mr. Coolidge's part that President Hoover will have troubles aplenty mean while—because otherwise Mr. Hoover will want to be renominated, and if he wants to be he will be, no matter what kind of an administration he has had.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Tomato Cocktail Salmon Croquettes
Parsley Potatoes
Head Lettuce with French Dressing
Sour Pickles
Homemade Fresh Whole Wheat Bread or Rolls
Gold Cake, Marshmallow Frosting
Tea or Coffee

Do you ever make bread? Most household experts will tell you not to. That it is cheaper and more satisfactory altogether to buy it. But, while this is probably true, as a general thing, do try your hand at it once in awhile just to say you can, and to get a taste of the delicious stuff fresh from the oven.

Today's Recipes

Whole Wheat Bread (One Large Loaf)—One cake compressed yeast, one and one-half cups milk or water, scalded and cooled, one tablespoon shortening, one-fourth cup molasses, if desired; one tablespoon sugar, one teaspoon salt, three cups whole wheat flour, two cups white flour. If molasses is used add an additional one-fourth cup whole wheat flour. Soften yeast in the lukewarm liquid. Add shortening, molasses, sugar, salt and flour. Mix thoroughly with the hands. Knead gently until smooth in the bowl or on a well-floured board. Let stand in a warm place until double in bulk. Round up the dough on the board. Let stand 15 minutes. Shape into the loaf, place in greased pan and let rise until double in bulk. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, 45 to 55 minutes.

Salmon Croquettes—One and three-fourths cups salmon, two tablespoons fat, one-third cup flour, one cup milk, little salt, pepper, one teaspoon lemon juice. Make a white sauce of the fat, flour and milk. Add the salt and a dash of pepper. Flake the salmon and add to the sauce, with the lemon juice. Spread on a platter to chill. Shape into desired size, roll in fine crumbs, then in egg and again in crumbs. Fry in deep fat, 380-390 degrees, until browned, about three to five minutes. Half egg and half water makes a nice consistency in which to roll the crumbed croquettes.

Gold Cake—One cup sugar, one-half cup shortening—butter or substitute, or half butter and half lard—two whole eggs, two teaspoons lemon extract, one-half cup sweet milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder. Bake in layers. Frost with one cup sugar boiled until it spins a fine thread in one-half cup water, then poured slowly over the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Continue beating the mixture and drop marshmallows, one at a time, in the hot mixture, until from six to 12 have been dissolved.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Balanced Diet

Mrs. H.: The fur of animals is markedly affected by deficient diets, and it is reasonable to suppose that the hair of humans may also be affected by a similar cause. In fact, it is so; so if you are beginning to lose your hair while on a reducing diet, I suspect you haven't been careful in the choice of your foods. Remember that it is not only necessary to count your calories and limit them, to the reducing number, but it is also very necessary to have the calories you do consume, consist of the correct foods. I think it would be wise to run the foundation for a reducing diet. (This is also a good foundation for a gaining diet.)

Daily Foundation Diet

FIRST: At least a half pound every day of some watery vegetables (the green leaf vegetables are especially desirable)—lettuce, spinach, celery, asparagus, water-cress, beet top greens, cabbage, tomatoes, etc. A half pound of these, cooked without fat, will be approximately 50 C. (Have raw carrots, raw cabbage, tomatoes raw or cooked, and spinach often, for they are high in vitamins and minerals.)

SECOND: One-half pound of other vegetables, such as carrots, beets, onions, parsnips and squash, etc., every day. These will approximate about 100 C., without fat.

THIRD: 200 to 300 C. of fruit daily. (Good-sized orange, apple, pear—100 C. each.) (It is best to take a large share of the vegetables and fruit raw.)

FOURTH: One pint of skim milk or buttermilk (160 C.) in some form—in cooking, drinks or cheese. You need it for lime and complete protein. (Children's diets should have at least three glasses of whole milk.)

FIFTH: One medium small potato, 100 C., OR one large slice of whole wheat bread, one-half inch thick, same number of calories. OR two-thirds of a cup of cereal. If you have starchy or sugary desserts, you can omit these.

SIXTH: One to two teaspoonfuls cod liver oil (35 C. each), or two to four cod liver oil tablets

(practically no calories), or on tablespoonful butter (100 C.), or two ounces thin cream (100 C.)—to be sure of your vitamin A. (I you do take cod liver oil tablets be sure to get the brand that is accepted by the A. M. A. Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry. This fact is stated on the bottle, so you will know.)

SEVENTH: Protein. You have more protein, besides what you get in the milk, so take it to three ounces of very lean meat or fish or two eggs (100 to 150 C. total).

What I have outlined for you comes to 750-950 C. If you go on a 1200 calorie day for your reducing diet, you have quite a few calories left for the things you like. But I advise you to not take sweets and fats because it is best to learn not to care for them.

Our pamphlet on Reducing and Gaining will give you some additional helps in reducing. See column rules for obtaining it.

Miss W.: If the discharge from your nail doesn't clear up, wash that water and soap cleansing twice a day, followed by a little boracic acid or peroxide, you should see a physician.

Your other questions are answered in our pamphlet on the Hygiene of Women.

Miss P.: We have an article on superfluous hair which may help you. See column rules for obtaining this.

Tomorrow: Answers to Mothers.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters can not diagnose nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in their turn. Requests for articles or pamphlets on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, plus the following "mail charge to help cover cost of printing and handling for each article wanted, two cents in coin; for each pamphlet ten cents in coin. The pamphlets on Reducing and Gaining, Hygiene of Women, Kidney and Bladder Disorders, Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper. Write legibly, and not over 200 words.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

HERE'S an interesting question for women who pride ourselves on being "broadminded." What shall be our attitude toward the woman who is suspected of breaking up another woman's home—"keeping company" with a married man?

Following is the letter which raises the question:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: We have a woman in our class who has been going with a married man. Through her a number of the ladies have left because she brought the class before the public by her conduct."

"The most unfortunate thing about the affair is that the wife of the man could not live with him any longer from the way he treated her. She is making a living for herself and daughter."

"What seems strange is that the rest of the members of the class never say anything to this woman. She has stayed in the class while she knew every one of the ladies left on her account."

"I do believe a person should be helped that has fallen, and we look, of course to the Christian to do that. Will you please give us your ideas of the duty of classes when they have a case of this kind? Was our class fair to these ladies who left? It seems as if we have not done just as we should for one class, for a home has been broken by this woman."

"Do you recall, by chance, the scene in the Bible when a woman taken in adultery was brought before Jesus? The mob was keen to stone her and clamored loudly for 'justice.'"

Jesus said nothing for some time, and, not looking at the woman or her accusers, traced patterns on the ground with his staff. When the noise had somewhat died down he looked up and said very quietly: "Let he who is without sin among you cast the first stone."

Needless to say, no one threw a stone, and they gradually drifted away. Now, all of the ladies who belonged to your class are doubtless firmly convinced that, no matter what the circumstances, the woman would be guilty of this particular sin. Probably they wouldn't. We all have our particular brands (cussedness, however, so best not throw stones, eh?)

And, my dear, there are many strange and tragic longings and loneliness in the human heart. Possibly if you could get into the woman's you would not condemn her utterly. You could not condone the wrong she did the man's wife and child, but you could see that she had some excuse and was possibly a better woman in some respects than those who withdrew from the class because of a fear of contamination. Your class did right to let the woman go. It was the privilege. I think they would have shown better sense to have stayed. You have a much better chance to reform a woman by being friendly and sympathetic than by snubbing her.

JANE: Can't find your letter Jane, and simply cannot answer the questions in the column. Too many letters, too little time to spare. Write again and tell us just what is troubling you and we will try to help you. You know, dear, some people's troubles are bigger than others, and I try to help those who seem to need it most.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Beauty Must Be Evident Bridal Day

I remember wondering, when I was a little girl, whether one could ever really be married without having an April or a June wedding. It's such a beautiful month to be beautiful in, and if there is ever a time in a woman's life when she should be beautiful it is on her bridal day.

Of course a wedding isn't planned and perfected all in a day. In America there are usually for a few months devoted to preparation. In some parts of central and southern Europe betrothals last years, and a little girl's birth gift is not infrequently the lace for her wedding veil.

I have in my collection a marvelous carved Italian bride's chest chest remained in one Genoese family, being filled again and again from birth to betrothal with the bridal trousseau of each succeeding daughter.

There are still many parts of Europe where girls sew on their wedding clothes almost from the time their fingers can deftly guide a needle.

I am just sufficiently romantic to find it a charming custom, and to think that a young woman is richly blessed in being brought up to the belief that her wedding is the culmination of her childhood and adolescent dreams. But, of modern years, modern maids have little time to dream, and the "shoe-string trousseau" is far more common than one might realize.

Granting, then, that many of you will be married these beautiful months without an exciting row of shopping, and fittings, a luncheon, and teas, I do hope it you cling to your sentiment enough to want to meet your wedding day as completely beautiful as it is your power to be.

I have been at the cathedral wedding of a princess and the qu ceremony in an ivy covered hall in Kent. I have been at the qu marriage of a Britanna pease and I have wished happiness to new duchess. And before each ceremony I have seen the bride, qu tioning, anxious, wanting with her heart to be supremely beautiful.

As you read this, spring will be blossoming all over Paris. Little green buds will be bursting in blossom. Under green leaves will be dripping pearls of rain and Paris designers will be frowning over little clusters of orange blossoms that are to cascade down wedding veils. And all you American brides will be dreaming of happiness and making yourselves beautiful for your great day.

There is so much confusion about important details, let's dream to be very nice and perfect about the bride's beauty. There are certain definite preparations to made. Let us take them in order.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

There have been football schedules and football schedules but the one facing the 1930 edition of the Rockne Rovers is one for the books. It is difficult enough to put any other team or coach in the grave. As for Rockne and his boys it may mean another national championship.

It seems that Knute Rockne is perfectly satisfied to spend the remainder of his days at Notre Dame. That is not surprising—they're so thoughtful of him there.

Aware of the fact that Rockne, not in the best of health, had lost his entire 1929 first-string line in addition to two backs, including Jack Elder, fleet-footed sprinter, the committee, individual or whatever or whoever it is that makes up the gridiron schedule, fixed up a nice, soft, gentle program for 1930. Oh yeah, gentle as a mule's kick.

It is an old tradition that opening games each season should be warm-up games and comparatively easy. That being the case Notre Dame will usher in its fall grid against Southern Methodist. The Army will testify that this is a nice outfit of wild men. Next on the menu for the Rovers is the Navy, Carnegie and Pitt in the order named on successive weekends. This assignment should be as easy as jumping off the Woolworth Bldg.

The committee, taking pity on the boys, has arranged a "breather" after the Pitt battle. Indiana is the "breather." Just a set-up so to speak. Then comes Penn at Philadelphia and Drake. Then another Big Ten push-over, namely, Northwestern, a bone-crushing outfit if there ever was one.

Not one to do things by halves, the schedule makers went the limit and made the schedule 100 per cent easy for the Ramblers by booking Army at Chicago and Southern California out on the Coast.

It all goes to show that Rockne has endeared himself to the hearts of Notre Dame because otherwise they would have fixed it so he would have something to worry about.

The recently completed Carnegie Tech football schedule for 1930 includes Georgia Tech, Buffalo and Temple Universities, three teams never met before. Buffalo is to be met at Buffalo on the opening day of the season September 27, and Temple will be engaged at Philadelphia November 22. Georgia Tech faces the Spartans in the third contest of the season in Pittsburgh on October 11. All of Carnegie's old rivals, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, N. Y. U. and W. and J. will be played. Thiel and Western Reserve complete the program.

Matchmaker Jim Holland of the Forest Park Athletic Club is bringing two newcomers to Dayton to share headline positions in the fight card he is offering at Memorial Hall Monday night. Holland has signed Benny "Kid" Stanley, 165-pound package of dynamite, to face Tiger Roy Williams, of Chicago, over the ten-round route, and Mickey O'Hara, prominent southern lightweight, to battle for the same number of rounds with Dayton's own Johnny Curtin.

That the Dayton matchmaker has scored a ten-strike is indicated by the advance notices given Stanley by no less an authority than the Illinois Boxing Commission, which declares the Kansas City colored man is one of the toughest colored light-heavyweights ever to show in the Windy City. Stanley is a staple mate of Larry Johnson, who knocked out Joe Sekyra in one round recently. Stanley has twice defeated Pedlar Palmer, Dayton light-heavyweight, who gave Sekyra two great fights at Dayton, and Palmer maintains that Stanley has the goods.

SCOUT MEETING

Troop No. 45, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its regular meeting Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Scout cabin. All patrol leaders are requested by Paul McParland, assistant Scoutmaster, to have a full attendance at the meeting.

WHO ARE THESE MINSTREL MEN? TICKETS FOR CORRECT ANSWERS

Do you know these handsome minstrel men?

If you do it may be money in your pocket.

Of course you are going to the joint Ki-Ro "Gridiron Minstrels" at City Hall Theater here March 27 and 28 and all you have to do to get two tickets free is to guess correctly the proper names of the end men to be shown in this paper.

There are six in all and the first two appear above. They are well-known Xenians, members of either the Kiwanis or Rotary Club and they are going to furnish most of the fun-making for the minstrel show here.

Two pictures of these end men made up in blackface as they will appear on the stage, will be published each day until all six are published. Each picture will be numbered. If you think you know these comedians, write their names plainly according to the numbers in the attached coupon, write in your own name and address plainly, and send or bring the coupon to The Gazette.

Save the coupon until all the pictures have been published, and then fill it out as completely as you are able. Two tickets will be given each of the first five contestants who submit correct names for all the pictures or to the five most nearly correct, ten tickets being given in all.

The joint cast from the two service clubs is busy rehearsing for the show, which will be the first minstrels presented here for some time.

VISITING PRIEST IS LENTEN SPEAKER

A concept of death and eternity as an urge to spiritual preparedness was painted by the Rev. Francis Kelly, Springfield, before Lenten worshippers at St. Brigid Church Wednesday night.

The Rev. Father Kelly, now pastor of St. Mary's Church, Springfield, is a former pastor of St. Paul's Church, Yellow Springs. The first of a series of Lenten sermons he will deliver at the local church based on the opportunity offered by the Lenten period to prepare for death and he emphasized the short span of life and the certainty of the grave. His weekly sermons will be delivered each Wednesday night during Lent.

EXHAUSTED AND SICK: KONJOLA GIVES RELIEF

Cleveland Lady, Ill And Run Down For Years, Tells What New Medicine Did For Her

"I had the 'flu' three times and this left me in a frightfully run down and nervous state," said Mrs. Marie Ernest, 2059 West Fifth Street, Cleveland. "This affected my digestion and there were few foods which my stomach would digest at all. I was completely exhausted all the time and my daily duties were a drudgery that was often too much for me.

"A neighbor urged me to try Konjola because of the wonderful good it had done her, I soon found that this great medicine was not an experiment, but an assured success. In just three weeks I felt like a different person, Konjola quieted my nerves, relieved my stomach weakness, gave me an excellent appetite and built up my entire system until I am in better health today than I have been in years. I can never say enough in praise of this master-medicine."

Konjola is a new and different medicine of 32 ingredients, 22 of them the juices of roots and herbs long known for their medicinal value. Konjola works quickly and thoroughly at the very root, the fount of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola is not designed to give mere temporary relief, but to bring new, glorious and lasting health.

Konjola is sold in Xenia at Gallaher drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

THE PROSPERITY OF THE NATION DEPENDS ON ITS LABORING MEN

Not in the richly furnished offices of the great financiers—not in the temples of art and culture—but out in the busy, noisy places where the brawny men who run the great machinery of civilization work—that is where prosperity lives or dies.

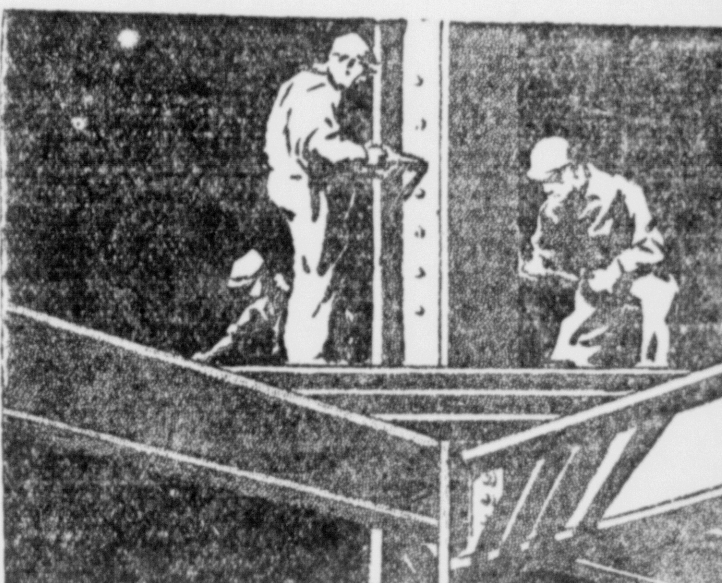

And—where these laboring men spend their money determines the success or failure of the business of the community in which they live. Money that is kept within the community means enlarged building, new enterprises, fresh opportunities and a higher wage scale.

Decreased Buying Power in any community means losses for all. Sending the money to outside enterprises means the draining of the life-blood of the home territory.

THE INDEPENDENT MERCHANT strives not only to give to the laboring man every price advantage that can be fairly offered, but he works with him in building the prosperity of the community that provides him with employment.

URGE AUDIENCE TO ARRIVE PROMPTLY

Patrons who arrive late for the performance of "Dulcy", three-act play to be presented by the Little Theater Guild at City Hall Theater next Tuesday evening will not be seated after the rise of the curtain until between the acts, the Guild announces.

"Dulcy" will be the first open performance of the Guild this season and tickets will be sold patrons who are not members at the door for seventy-five cents.

The curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock and the audience is urged to arrive promptly. Mrs. Findley M. Torrence and Charles A. Bone have the leads in "Dulcy" supported by a capable cast. The play is being directed by Mrs. Esther Smith Schick.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO HOUSE BREAKING

Appearing in Common Pleas Court Wednesday, Alfred Walthal, Jamestown, entered a not guilty plea to an indictment for house-breaking and his trial has been assigned for April 1 by Judge R. L. Gowdy. Ulric Allen, Jamestown, indicted on a similar charge, has not been arraigned.

Walthal and Allen, together with Smith Huff, 17, colored, Jamestown, against whom a delinquency charge is pending in Juvenile Court, are alleged to have forced an entrance into the home of William A. Riggleman, 55, Jamestown, the night of February 28 and threatened him with violence.

COUNTRY CLUB WILL SELECT OFFICERS

Annual meeting of stockholders of the Xenia Country Club will be held Wednesday, April 9 for the purpose of electing directors for 1930, according to an announcement Thursday. Following the stockholders' meeting the directors will meet to organize and elect officers.

No date has been fixed for the formal opening of the club this year but preliminary work on the fairways is already under way in preparation for the golf season.

ELKS TO INSTALL OFFICERS APRIL 7

I. FRIEDMAN

Isidore Friedman will be installed as exalted ruler of Xenia Lodge No. 668, B. P. O. Elks at initiation and installation ceremonies at the lodge home here April 7.

He will succeed James P. Kyle, new officers having been elected.

New Face Powder Stays On Longer

A wonderful discovery is the new French process which gives MELLO-GLO Face Powder its unparalleled smoothness and makes it stay on longer. The purest powder made—its color is tested. Never gives a pasty or flaky look! Will not smart the skin or enlarge the pores. Gives a youthful bloom. Remember the name—MELLO-GLO. Hutchison and Gibney. —Adv.

XENIAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THIS EASTERN STAR DISTRICT

Miss Florence Swan, Xenia, member of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, was elected president of the Eighteenth Ohio District, Order of Eastern Star, at the annual district convention held at the Masonic Temple in Springfield Wednesday. Mrs. Mildred S. Junk, Mt. Sterling, O., is the retiring president.

Other officers selected for the coming year are: vice-president, Mrs. Inez Armstrong, Osborn; treasurer, Mrs. Louise Slaughter, of Sedalia; and secretary, Mrs. Lucy Baldwin, of St. Paris, who was re-elected.

The 1931 district convention will be held next March at Jamestown, according to a vote taken by the more than 500 delegates who attended the morning and afternoon sessions.

Delegates representing Xenia, Jamestown, Cedarville, Osborn, Yellow Springs, Springfield, Plain City, Mt. Sterling, St. Paris, London, New Carlisle, North Lewisburg, South Charleston, Sedalia, West Jefferson and Urbana attended the sessions.

The two Springfield chapters, Norris and Home City, were the hostess chapters for the meeting and following a delicious dinner served at noon at the temple, officers-elect were presented and a memorial service was conducted in charge of Jamestown Chapter, No. 141.

Xenians who attended the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Ora Whittington, Mrs. Ruth Neff, Mrs. Karl Buck, Mrs. Grace Brannen, Mrs. A. C. McCormick, Mrs. A. E. Faulkner, Mrs. Ed Chambliss, Mrs. Carl

Why People Abhor Fat

Not only because it blights beauty and vigor, but because informed people regard it as needless. They know that a chief cause is a gland weakness, easily corrected.

Modern physicians, the world over, now aim at that weakness. Their method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets, now used for 22 years. The countless fat people who have grown slender now everywhere show what this method does. Perhaps your close friends can tell you.

If you are over-fat, you owe to yourself a test of Marmola. The reasons and formula are in every box. Every drugist supplies it—$1 a box. Starving is not necessary. Go start today.

The Ladies Aid Society spent a very enjoyable day, at the home of Mrs. Mary Pape last Thursday, March 6. This was her birthday, entertaining the society is an annual affair. The day was perfect. The dinner table was loaded which we all enjoyed. The regular meeting was led by the president in the afternoon. The society gave fifty dollars for the furnace. This makes seventy dollars the society has paid. After the meeting adjourned they were entertained by Mrs. Pape with games. Those who won the first prize were Mrs. Ruth Weiss, Mrs. Mabel Soward, Mrs. Andrew and Mrs. Bell, the second, Mrs. Kable, Mrs. Woodman and Mrs. Fleath. Those present were:

"THE SHADOW" which pursues us all"

(John Greenleaf Whittier, 1807-1892)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky Strike instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

IT'S enough to make you sing for joy—to see the gleaming, snowy whiteness of clothes washed the safe Rinso way!

And there's no hard work at all with Rinso! No boiling, even. Rinso's suds are thick and lasting—even in hardest water. The makers of 38 leading washers say, "Use Rinso!"

Great for tub washing, too. Soaks clothes whiter than they can be scrubbed; saves the clothes, and spares your hands as well.

One cupful of this compact, granulated, hard-water soap gives more suds than two cupfuls of lightweight, puffed-up soap.

The Theater

What will the stage performers do in the summer? On the legitimate stage the summer is an off season, largely because of lack of patronage, and shows begin to close in March and April.

In Hollywood there has been no particular off-season because pictures made in the summer are available in time for the fall openings. Of course the film stars take vacations, but they are not all turned off at the same time.

But here we find Gus Edwards, Armida the dancer and other dancers and singers preparing to leave filmland March 18 for New York. Gus has contracted to play four weeks of vaudeville, hitting Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee and Manhattan. Armida will probably share honors with him and it is reported that the little Mexican will not come back to Hollywood with Edwards.

It is learned that Armida is sought to succeed Lily Damiti in the Jack Donaghy musical comedy, "Sons-o-Guns" and while the vaudeville act is in New York Armida will rehearse the Damiti role between shows.

And then there is the fact that Universal will close up shop pretty soon to remain closed for six or more weeks. This will throw a lot of performers out of work and some of these who are the worst about wanting to eat regularly, will probably seek other jobs.

Harry Pollard, the director, has already done this by signing a long term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Pollard has been with Universal for years, handling the megaphone for the major share of that concern's heavy films.

And Julianne Johnstone and her partner, Danny Darling, are also preparing to leave Hollywood on a vaudeville dancing tour soon.

Julianne and Danny have been rehearsing every morning for several weeks at the Montmartre and they recently gave an exhibition there and were forced to respond with two encores.

Julianne was originally a dancer, being in the same dance act with Marion Nixon. They came to Los Angeles together and both were attracted by the movies. Julianne wasn't as successful in the celluloids as Miss Nixon and then the talkies seemed to present complications. Many film stars who fail to get the breaks in filmland these days, have turned successfully to the legitimate stage. And it wouldn't surprise many people in Hollywood if Julianne and Danny made some big roadway production with their dance act before long.

And speaking of those who are leaving or have left Hollywood, it is interesting to note that Emil Jannings, the German star, who deserted American pictures some time ago, was mobbed by his admirers in Vienna recently and hurt so badly he may be laid up for several days.

A day or two ago the Hooven and Allison Cordage Co. finished making a special order of 2,800 feet of rope and when it was ready for shipment employees found they could not get the immense coil through the doors of the new mill. It was necessary to uncoil most of the rope and rewind it by hand after it was taken from the building.

TOOK IT TO BUILD HER UP

Strengthened by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

La Junta, Colo.—"After my little daughter was born, one of my neighbors persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build me up. The first bottle made quite a change in me. I got an appetite and can sleep much better. I am not so nervous as I was. I have six children and do all my own work. I can do so much more now than I could when I began taking the Vegetable Compound and I shall certainly recommend your medicine whenever I have an opportunity."—Mrs. John Osborn, R. #2, Box 216, La Junta, Colorado.
